

Finaval Spa – Milano

LAMBDA also works for private companies in consulting during the design phase of building in archeological areas.

LAMBDA in collaboration with Arch. Donatella Fiorani, professor at the University La Sapienza of Rome, has prepared for Finaval Spa (Feltrinelli group) some guidelines for the accommodation of existing structures, based on the conservation needs of the exhibits structural attributed to the Imperial residence built in Milan by the emperor Maximian (286-308 AD) between III - IV century AD.

The study design Cecchi & Associates Lima provides for containment solutions that enable the visibility of the ancient structures. Based on this we identified solutions and principals needed for the proper conservation of archaeological evidence.

